Junior Research FellowshipAre you sure you want to sign out? CancelSign OutEngEnglish/à□¹à□¿à□,à□¹à¥€Sign InBackDetailsBenefitsEligibilityApplication ProcessDocuments RequiredFrequently Asked QuestionsSources And ReferencesFeedbackSomething went wrong. Please try again later.OkYou need to sign in before applying for schemesCancelSign InSomething went wrong. Please try again later. OkIt seems you have already initiated your application earlier. To know more please visit CancelApply NowCheck EligibilityMinistry Of Science And TechnologyJunior Research FellowshipFinancial AssistanceLecturerProfessorResearch ScientistDetailsThe Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) from the Department of Biotechnology (DBT) is a fellowship program that provides financial support to students who are pursuing doctoral research in biotechnology and life sciences. The JRF program is open to all Indian nationals who have a master's degree in biotechnology or a related field."»; Benefits The fellowship amount for the JRF program is â, '31,000 per month for the first two years and â, '35,000 per month for the remaining three years. Eligibility Applicant must be Indian citizen. Applicant must have a master's degree in biotechnology or a related field from a recognized universityApplicant must clear the GAT or NET exam in biotechnology or a related fieldApplicant should not be more then 28 years for general and EWS category candidates and 33 years for SC/ST/PH category candidates Applicant must be willing to pursue full-time doctoral research in biotechnology or a related field at a recognized university or research institution in India. Application ProcessOnlineStep 1: Qualify in the Biotechnology Eligibility Test (BET)The BET is a national-level entrance exam conducted by the Department of Biotechnology (DBT) to select candidates for the DBT-JRF program. The BET exam is held once a year, typically in the month of June. To apply for the BET exam, applicant must have a master's degree in biotechnology or a related field from a recognized university. Applicant must also have a valid GATE score or a NET score in biotechnology or a related field."»; Step 2: Apply for the DBT-JRF program onlineOnce applicant have qualified in the BET exam, applicant can apply for the DBT-JRF program online. The online application process typically opens in the month of July and closes in the month of August. To apply for the DBT-JRF program online, applicant will need to create an account on the DBT website and fill in the required details. applicant will also need to upload the required documents, such as applicant's BET exam scorecard, research proposal, and NOC from the current employer (if applicable)."">, Step 3: Appear for the interviewCandidates who are shortlisted for the DBT-JRF program will be called for an interview. The interview will be held at a designated venue and will be conducted by a panel of experts. The interview will be based on applicant's research proposal and applicant's overall knowledge of biotechnology and life sciences. Applicant will also be asked questions about applicant's research interests and career goals. "in ¿Step 4: Check the final selection listThe final selection list for the DBT-JRF program is usually announced within a few weeks of the interview. Applicant can check the final selection list online on the DBT website.Documents RequiredBET exam scorecard.Research proposal.No Objection Certificate (NOC) from the current employer (if applicable). Personal details and educational qualifications, including: Passport size photograph. Signature. Date of birth. Academic transcripts for all degrees obtained. Category certificate (if applicable). Persons with Disability (PWD) certificate (if applicable). Frequently Asked Questions What is the JRF program? The JRF program is a fellowship program that provides financial support to students who are pursuing doctoral research in biotechnology and life sciences. The program is funded by the Department of Biotechnology (DBT), Government of India. Who is eligible for the JRF program?1. Be an Indian national. 2. Have a master's degree in biotechnology or a related field from a recognized university. 3. Have a valid BET score. What is the application process for the JRF program? To apply for the JRF program, you must first qualify in the Biotechnology Eligibility Test (BET). The BET is a national-level entrance exam conducted by the DBT once a year. Once you have qualified in the BET, you can apply for the JRF program online. The online application process typically opens in the month of July and closes in the month of August. What documents are required for the RF program?1. BET exam scorecard. 2. Research proposal. 3. No Objection Certificate (NOC) from the current employer (if applicable). 4. Personal details and educational qualifications. 5. Category certificate (if applicable). 6. Persons with Disability (PWD) certificate (if applicable). What is the selection process for the JRF program? 1. BET exam score 2. Research proposal 3. Interview performanceWhat is the duration of the JRF program? The JRF program is a five-year program. What is the fellowship amount for the JRF program? The fellowship amount for the JRF program is â, 131,000 per month for the first two years and â, 135,000 per month for the remaining three years. What are the career prospects after completing the JRF program? After completing the JRF program, you can pursue a career in research, academia, industry, or government. Some of the specific job roles that you may be eligible for include: Research scientist Professor Lecturer Science communicator Technical writer Patent agent Regulatory affairs specialist Quality assurance manager Business development managerWhat are the responsibilities of a JRF fellow? The responsibilities of a JRF fellow include: Conducting research in biotechnology or a related field Publishing research papers in peer-reviewed journals Presenting research findings at conferences and seminars Completing PhD degree within the stipulated time frameSources And ReferencesGuidelinesOfficial WebsiteRegistrationOkWas this helpful?News and UpdatesNo new news and updates availableShareSomething went wrong. Please try again later.OkYou need to sign in before applying for schemesCancelSign InSomething went wrong. Please try again later.OkIt seems you have already initiated your application earlier. To know more please visit Cancel Apply Now Check Eligibility Ministry Of Science And TechnologyJunior Research FellowshipFinancial AssistanceLecturerProfessorResearch ScientistDetailsBenefitsEligibilityApplication ProcessDocuments RequiredFrequently Asked QuestionsThe Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) from the Department of Biotechnology (DBT) is a fellowship program that provides financial support to students who are pursuing doctoral research in biotechnology and life sciences. The JRF program is open to all Indian nationals who have a master's degree in biotechnology or a related field.">¿OkWas this helpful?ShareNews and UpdatesNo new news and updates available©2024Powered byDigital India Corporation(DIC)Ministry of Electronics & IT (MeitY)Government of India®Quick LinksAbout UsContact UsScreen ReaderAccessibility StatementFrequently Asked QuestionsDisclaimerTerms & ConditionsUseful LinksGet in touch4th Floor, NeGD, Electronics Niketan, 6 CGO Complex, Lodhi Road, New Delhi - 110003, Indiasupport-myscheme[at]digitalindia[dot]gov[dot]in(011)

24303714Last Updated On: 28/03/2024 | v-2.1.1